BRITISH AND FOREIGN

EVANGELICAL REVIEW,

March, 1855.

CONTENTS.

II. The Conversion of Northern Europe.
III. The Plurality of Worlds.
IV. Modern English Theism.
V. Ferrier's Institutes of Metaphysic.
VI. The Future of the Jewish Nation.

"This is decidedly one of the best Quarterlies of the day—rich and sound in its theology, besides displaying great ability in the general walks of literature. The selections made from Foreign sources are usually very judicious, and it is really delightful to find such variety from widely-separated quarters of the world, brought into immediate juxtaposition in this Journal and presented to the public in so convenient a form."

Journal of a Deputation,

SENT TO THE EAST

BY THE

COMMITTEE OF THE MALTA PROTESTANT COLLEGE IN 1849.

Containing an Account of the Present State of the Oriental Nations, including their Religion, Learning, Education, Customs, and Occupations, &c.

BY A LAY MEMBER OF THE COMMITTEE.

"There is much more contained here than might at first sight appear under the fixed local object of a college. They comprise wide discussions, historical, geographical, social, and political. Mohammedanism is admirably illustrated, while the ecclesiastical and political history of Egypt, from the introduction of Christianity to later times, is ably and copiously detailed. The Work deserves a place in every library, both public and private."—British Banner.

"These Volumes contain a large amount of deeply-interesting information, respecting places and people intimately associated with the Records of the Word of God."—Evangelical Christendom.

A Controversial Correspondence

BETWEEN

THE REV. P. MACLACHLAN (ROMAN CATHOLIC PRIEST),

AND

R. W. KENNARD, ESQ.

Part I., 1s. Part II., 2s. Part III., 2s. 6d.

"We have read nothing so fresh on the subject for a long time, with the exception of Sir George Sinclair's Letters, alongside of which Mr. Kennard's ought to be placed. When a well-educated and extensively-read layman discusses a question of this kind, the directness of his arguments tell powerfully on the community. We hope this pamphlet will have an extensive circulation."—Edinburgh Witness.

"This is a remarkable publication. Mr. Maclachlan is sufficiently skilled in the Romish arts of controversy; but in logical dexterity, and even in theological learning, the Roman Catholic Priest is evidently no match for the Protestant layman."—Dr. Irving, Edinburgh.

"We have not, for a long time, seen a publication that has given us greater satisfaction than Mr. Kennard's 'Controversial Correspondence.'"—Morning Advertiser.

"I sincerely admire its learning, its reasoning, and its spirit of Christianity; and I know of no production fitter to produce a more ample assurance in the mind of any man open to rational conviction."—Dr. Croly.

"We have in the pamphlet before us an instance in which a Protestant Layman, a gentleman well known and highly respected in the City of London, has replied to a Roman Catholic Priest, and certainly beaten him in fair and honest argument."—Bell's Weekly Messenger.

THE TALK OF THE ROAD: Showing how Irish people talk about Irish doings, when they get a quiet place, at the back of a ditch, or under a hedge.

"A most interesting little volume, from the pen of one who seems to be well acquainted with the Irish character, and the doings of the priests in our sister island. We felt highly entertained by its perusal, and can cordially recommend it to our readers. That it will prove serviceable to the cause of truth, we doubt not. Missionaries to the Irish Roman Catholics will find in it a valuable assistant."—Edinburgh Witness.
